

We Bring Private Workshops to You – Teaching Oil and Gas Management Essentials When and Where You Need Them.

IHRDC's Private Oil and Gas Workshops are designed around our comprehensive, public Management Programs and are condensed into one-week or less. These workshops are ideal for teaching the essentials of the international energy business and the skills required to be an outstanding manager.

Each program combines lectures by experienced energy business specialists with a classic IHRDC "business game" where participants work in teams to develop and manage an energy business over a simulated 20-year period.

"Team collaboration in a challenging workshop setting was very effective. I cannot think of a better way to learn."
